

WARNING RALLYING CAN BE ADDICTIVE

The West Coast Rally Association invites YOU to participate in the 2007 Novice Workshop Series! These workshops focus on a form of rally known as T.S.D. or "Navigational rally" events are based more on consistency and accuracy than flat out speed. These events allow both driver and co-driver to learn the basics they need to effectively compete in regional events.

TSD rallies are held on paved and unpaved gravel roads, requiring:

- Minimal preparation
- Street legal vehicles
- Basic Safety Equipment

The Workshops will be divided into 2 parts: an in class instruction session followed by a short on-road TSD session to test the skills and knowledge attained from the class.

During the classroom session experts will be on hand to provide an introduction to basic navigation, driving techniques, what to expect at regional events, tech inspections and any other questions that may arise.

Following the on-road portion of the workshop, instructors will be on-hand to go over your scores, answer questions as well as provide tips and tricks to further better your score.

The series will be divided into 3 parts, each covering a different form of TSD rally one might encounter:

Novice #1:
Tarmac

Novice #2:
Gravel

Novice #3:
Night Gravel
